‘We make excuses for boys, and subtly encourage girls to do the same.’ White Ribbon Ambassador Ken Lay.

100% of profits from this Suzanne Grae White Ribbon Scarf will be donated to the ‘Breaking the Silence’ schools program which has reached over 220,000 students and 15,600 principals to date.

Emotional abuse can be more impacting than physical violence. It wears you down and you start to believe the insults. It takes so longer to heal.

We need to ensure that our young people understand the grey area between love and control before a bad relationship escalates.

If you happen to be in Melbourne on Sunday 24th July there is a 5km walk/run, a 10km run or a half marathon to help raise awareness of men’s violence against women. “Hear the silence, stop the violence, run the distance, make the difference.” Brent Howard, White Ribbon Ambassador and avid runner.
